Overview

Portuguese wine is a testament to ancient traditions brought to the region by civilizations like the Romans, who began exporting it during the Roman Empire. The regions of Basto and Douro are jewels within Portugal's wine landscape, offering breathtaking landscapes waiting to be explored.

The Douro Valley, a UNESCO World Heritage site nestled in the north eastern part of the country, unfolds along the banks of the Douro River and its terraced vineyards, renowned for producing the famous Port wine. This region not only captivates with its stunning scenery but also enchants with the rich history and craftsmanship of its winemaking.

Terras de Basto, part of the expansive Vinhos Verdes (Green Wines) region in north western Portugal, is celebrated for its production of Vinho Verde, aptly named for its youthful vibrancy and distinctive character.

Our walking tour goes beyond mere exploration of natural landscapes, conservation areas, and cultural sites. It offers a journey into the heart of Portuguese winemaking, where you'll visit diverse Wine Estates and savour an array of wines including Douro table wines, Port wine, and the refreshing Vinho Verde. Prepare to indulge in not just the flavours, but the stories and traditions that make each sip a memorable experience.
