The hike to Gillman's Point is a very slow steep walk on volcanic scree for about 5-6 hours. The headlamps on the trail towards the summit almost look like fireflies in a long row. As you approach the crater rim you will enjoy the most memorable sunrise you may ever experience – the golden sunrise over Africa! Habitually will you luckily see the curving of the earth at this high altitude and the sunrise on the horizon just accentuates it. Always keep your camera ready as there are plenty of photographing opportunities along the summit. Once you reach Gillman's Point on top of the crater rim, you have approximately another hour and half hike to get to Uhuru Peak. Hike along fairly flat terrain for about 1½ hours to reach Uhuru Peak. Spend a few minutes at the top and get photos of your choice next to the sign marking the summit. Descend from Uhuru Peak in high spirits as you have just achieved your goal. The trail down from Gillman's Point on the Marangu route is often enjoyed by hikers sliding down the scree slope, which entails skidding down the loose gravel with big steps and some sideways moves. Try it, it is fun! With every step going down your body enjoys having more oxygen to breathe in. Depending on how you feel, you may enjoy a short rest at Kibo Camp before descending to Horombo Hut where you will spend the night. Dinner and overnight: Horombo Hut.

Day 08: Horombo Hut (3,720 m/12,205 ft) – Marangu Gate (1,843 m/6,046 ft)

Man's Beard (tree moss) growing on the giant trees as well as some Giant Ferns towering high over the forest bed. The path has many steps leading you down to Marangu Gate where you may find a cold beer or soft drink to start celebrating your assault of Kilimanjaro. You will be transferred back to Keys Hotel for hot shower and overnight rest.
