Detailed Itinerary

Day 01: Arrival in Greenland

Flights are available from Copenhagen or Reykjavik to Ilulissat, with a transfer from the airport to the hotel upon arrival. A welcome meeting provides insights into the town, local dining, and excursion options. The afternoon program varies by season: from June to August, a guided hike leads to an abandoned settlement, while the rest of the year features a guided tour of Ilulissat's rich history. The evening concludes with a welcome dinner at the hotel's restaurant (drinks not included).

Note: Flights from Copenhagen require a transfer in Nuuk.

Meal Plan

Only Dinner

Day 02: Ilulissat

After breakfast, the day's activities depend on the season. In summer (June–August), the day is at leisure, with an optional whale-watching excursion (not included), followed by an evening iceberg cruise under the midnight sun. In autumn (August–December), a guided hike to the abandoned Sermermiut settlement is followed by free time. From January to April, the itinerary includes a boat tour among the icebergs and an evening snowcat excursion under the polar night.

Breakfast

Day 03: Ilulissat

A day of adventure after breakfast. Summer features a full-day boat trip across Baffin Bay to witness the calving Egi Glacier. In autumn, a boat tour among the icebergs is followed by free time or an optional Northern Lights tour. Winter brings a true Arctic experience—dog sledding, a thousand-year-old Inuit tradition.
