Day 02: (SUN) Taipei

Use your 1 Day Taipei Double-Decker sightseeing Bus ticket to explore Taipei! The validity period of the ticket is from 09:10-19:50 (Hop on and hop off in the daytime. Go on Red or Blue Line without any limitations) The Red Route takes in Taipei 101, Huashan 1914 Creative Park, etc. The Blue Route takes in the Shilin Official Residence, National Palace Museum, etc. There is onboard Chinese, English, Japanese, and Korean audio-guide information. Below are landmarks STRONGLY RECOMMENDED

Blue Route • Shilin Official Residence Featuring exquisite Chinese garden-style landscaping, with Western-style flower gardens blended in, there is a wonderful spring rose bloom here each year, plus chrysanthemum, orchid, and other exhibitions when in season. • National Palace Museum The NPM has approximately 690,000 cultural treasures in its collection, most from the Song, Yuan, Ming, and Qing dynasties, including paintings, sculptures, books, and other precious artifacts. This is a must-visit spot when in Taipei. Red Route • National Chiang Kai-shek Memorial Hall The memorial hall is well known for its blue and white exterior. It hosts regular cultural-arts exhibits and a popular hourly changing-of-the-guard ceremony. On its two sides are the National Theatre and National Concert Hall. • Xinyi & Yongkang Intersection (Yongkang Commercial Area) Near MRT Dongmen Station, this area is renowned for its unique shops and diverse dining, such as Din Tai Fung's xiaolongbao, noodle dishes at Yong Kang Beef Noodles, and shaved ice with mango. The neighborhood also has many cafés of character. • Taipei 101 This skyscraper is Taiwan's most iconic landmark. In the mall at its base are global-brand boutiques and premium restaurants. The entire city can be taken in at a glance from the 89th floor Observatory. • Songshan Cultural and Creative Park ?MRT Sun Yat-sen Memorial Hall Station? This old tobacco-factory complex has been transformed into a thriving cross-domain creative experimentation space blending cultural-creative, performance, and commercial functions. Culture vultures love the constant cultural-arts performances and exhibits and onsite Eslite Spectrum Songyan Store. • Huashan 1914 Creative Park ?Ministry of Audit? This is a key development base for Taipei's cultural-creative industry, with facilities for meetings, exhibits, and performances. There is also a creative weekend market and irregular outdoor concerts. It is a splendid showcase of local cultural creative artistic dynamism.
