Departure from your hotel towards Casablanca Valley, located just 80 km from Santiago and 41 km from Valparaiso and known mainly by the great production of white wine Sauvignon Blanc, among others. Located at the base of the Cordillera de la Costa and surrounded by 2,500 hectares of native forest, Viñamar Vineyard is highly influenced by the fresh breeze and morning mist from the Pacific Ocean. These conditions moderate the temperatures and establish the ideal conditions for growing white varieties such as Sauvignon Blanc and Chardonnay, as well as reds from the cool climate such as Pinot Noir, Merlot and Syrah. We will have a tour and tasting of sparkling wines in Viñamar.

This vineyard was founded to develop an exceptional line of sparkling still wines for the world's most demanding markets. Aspiring to be recognized for the complexity and originality of its products, Viña Mar has its headquarters in the Casablanca Valley, an emblematic place in Chilean and world winemaking. The winery's name pays tribute to the main virtue of the valley: its beneficial proximity to the sea. It also incorporates the centuries-old tradition of its wine group, characterized by a passion for excellence and uncompromising quality of its wines.

After the tour and tasting at Viñamar, we will continue to Valparaiso (one of the main ports of Chile), declared a Cultural Heritage Site by UNESCO, due to its colorful constructions decorating the hillsides, providing the city a characteristic architecture and unique identity. Here we will visit the main highlights of the city. In the afternoon, return to your hotel in Santiago.
